LOCAL AND PERSONAL

CLOSING EXERCISES

The formal closing exercises of St. John's Catholic School of the Hondo parish were held Thursday evening, May 28, in the basement of the school, in the presence of a large and appreciative audience.

The program was entertaining from start to finish and was composed of songs, piano and instrumental numbers, drills and short comedy dramas which gave every student an opportunity to do his or her part. As a result some very good talent was exhibited among the tiny tots as well as among the older pupils.

The good Sisters have again shown their untiring efforts to present their pupils in an interesting and am-entertainment.

Rev. Father Flynn closed the exercises with a few well chosen words on the importance of keeping the young people occupied during the vacation months.

A cable from Porto Rico was received here Sunday by Mrs. Frances Keller, with the news that her son, Walter "Boxie" Karrer, had recently undergone an operation for appendicitis at Ponce. A later cable announced that he was improving rapidly. Mr. Karrer, who is Assistant Manager of the Central Fortuna Plantation of the South Porto Rico Sugar Company, was expected to arrive here about June 15 for a two months' vacation with his mother and his sister, Miss Nora Karrer, but the operation has delayed the trip home for about a month. His many friends here wish him a rapid recovery and a fine voyage home.

BAPTIST NEWS NOTES.

A sample outline of the talks which the Pastor is giving at the mid-week prayer meetings is here given. "Exodus, or the Second Book of the Bible." Introduction: The Book of Genesis closes with the story of the Pastor. There were thirty-nine credits earned, and a number were in attendance who made a fine contribution to the school who did not take into Egypt, where, in the good providences of God, he had become the prime minister of Pharaoh, the ruler of the Egyptians. Joseph was a striking type of the Christ: (a) In the purity of his life. (b) He laid up food, and saved a nation, in time of famine. (c) He became prime minister, and ruled the nation. (d) In his spirit of forgiveness towards his enemies. (e) In bringing his people and giving them a home in the land.

Here in Egypt is the first instance of the cruel oppression of a whole people when they were made slaves to the Egyptians. The one and only way out of their trouble was found in God to whom they cried. God is our present help in time of need. Exodus means "departure" or a going out. God heard the cry of his people and sent Moses to lead them out of bondage into Canaan. Moses, having should be an inspiration to everyone to attend Church. There also, is a type of the Christ: (a) When a babe, his life was sought by the King of Egypt, but it was preserved by the good providence of God. So was the life of the Christ like.

Come to Church Sunday in ap-sought by a wicked king, Herod, preciation of what the Lord has done coming a spiritual help and uplift

THE LEGISLATIVE MILL.

By Fred W. Davis.

A critic who cannot disassociate himself from the feelings and expressions brought about in the heat of conflict cannot be worth much to his readers. It is not possible or necessary to give a detailed history of the 131 day session which dealt with some 1600 bills. A discussion of a few outstanding questions, viewed in the light of circumstances, should enable the reader to put a fair value upon the sum total of the regular session of the legislature and determine for himself whether as a commonwealth we are facing the darkness or the dawn.

Here is a summary: It was, perhaps, the longest session in history. Decidedly longer than any regular session of recent date. The legislature, under the permit of the new constitutional amendment, doubled the pay of its members and doubled the time of the regular session for drawing maximum pay, and ran eleven days at the reduced pay of $5.00 per day. Bear in mind the legislature had the power to designate the length of the regular session, not to exceed 120 days, and in increase the pay of its members not to exceed $10.00 per day. So both maximum pay and tenure were voted.

Many members in both houses asserted both in debate and privately that the session was bound to meet with disapproval, as a whole. These opinions may have been based upon a belief that the public at large expected much as a consequence of a long term. At any rate, there was an expressed feeling of disappointment among the legislators themselves.

This wonderful weather we are having should be an inspiration to everyone to attend Church. There should be a spirit of thanksgiving pervading our entire section for the wonderful prospects, rains and the

God. So was the life of the Christ like. Come to Church Sunday in ap-

THEN AND NOW.

From Yancey Methodist Bulletin.

In 1872 the first preaching services were held in the home of P. E. and L. A. Wilson, uncle and father of H. G. Wilson and Mrs. S. P. Childress. This home was used for worship services for several years, then a school house was used until 1880. A church building was erected near the old cemetery in Frio county. This church was known as Wilson Chapel, also Salem Church and finally Tehuacana church. A. J. Potter was the first preacher for the congregation.

The first parsonage was built in 1880 by the pastor, J. C. Russell. It was located on Langford Lake near the old cemetery. This building is now owned by H. G. Wilson and is still standing on the old King Nixon place.

Camp-meetings were held every summer at either Langford Lake or the Bailey Lake in the Will Crain pasture.

In 1900 H. G. and S. G. Wilson gave a tract of land located about four miles southeast of Yancey for the building site of a new $800.00 church.

As the church grew in membership and Yancey was the center of the community it was decided that the church be moved to the present location.

The church building was moved and rebuilt as a parsonage in 1915. The Public School Auditorium was used for worship until 1920 the tabernacle was erected and worship services were conducted there for five years.

The Ebenezer church united with the Yancey charge in 1921 under the pastorate of F. W. Radetzky.

At the completion of the new building the church was opened for worship on May 1, 1925.

Owing to the faithfulness and determination of the pastor, J. H. Estes, and the Board of Stewards, J. C. Newton, J. W. McCaughan, J. N. Wilson, J. G. Weekley, A. J. Hardt, J. G. Faseler, Geo. Faseler, H. L. Saathoff and W. B. Melton, the church was cleared of debt in October, 1930.

This church has had a Sunday school since the beginning in 1872. The Superintendents were L. A. Wilson, W. E. Newton and J. C. Newton, the latter who is now serving his fortieth year in that capacity.

We are indebted to the following for information concerning our church: Mrs. P. E. Wilson (90 years of age) of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Philo Crain, H. G. Wilson, Mrs. S. P. Childress, J. C. Newton. Also Desha McAnnelly for the use of his father's personal note book that contained minutes of church and Sunday School when he was Recording Secretary in 1880 and 1881.

Oldest member of church, Grandma Faseler.

THE ORDERLY ATTIC.

By Mary Louise Frazier.

The attic in most farm homes is a tragic affair, for generally it is cluttered up with last winter's woolens, discarded clothing, furniture and what not.

Recently however, I decided that my attic should be as neat and orderly as any other part of the home. But when I surveyed its numerous contents I was perplexed, for I couldn't imagine what I could possibly do with everything there.

After thinking and planning for some time, I devised a way that would eliminate such oft repeated searching for misplaced articles, and would also assist in making our farm home more attractive on the interior.

The first step was to dispose of all unnecessary items. Some went to the dump pile, and others to the junk man.

Along the wall I constructed several bins with a lid on each one. In these I stored clothes and extras for future use. One contained wool sweaters and woolen blankets. Another held raincoats, and one bin contained rubbers, galoshes and winter "high tops." In the winter the bins will harbor the summer clothes, such as tennis shoes, sandals, straw hats, etc.

There were several articles of furniture that were beginning to depreciate very seriously on account of accumulated dust. For these I made covers to slip over them from some discarded blankets that had also come to rest in the attic.

Empty fruit jars seemed everywhere, but I had no suitable boxes to store them in. Obtaining some cedar wood and a few laths I constructed a wide box of convenient size, and slightly higher than the jars. Bracing two of the laths lengthwise inside, just far enough apart to allow a jar to slip between, I then inserted two laths crosswise, and continued to alternate the direction of the laths until the top of the box was reached.

I made several of these to contain the jars and placed one on top of the other. When the tray-like boxes were finished they resembled egg crates to a great extent, and each crate contained one dozen quart size, or two dozen pint size jars.

On the windows that overlooked the road I put up neat curtains which certainly helped to dispose of that "storage-room" appearance.

Since the attic has been made neat and convenient no more valuable time is lost searching for things that are misplaced or others that never did have a place.

Matchless economy

with six-cylinder smoothness

"Better than 20 miles to the gallon." "Its cost-per-mile is the lowest of any car." "Never have to add oil between crankcase changes." "Drove from Ohio to California on a repair expense of $1.05." "It just runs and runs and runs."

—typical comments from owners of the Chevrolet Six

Why is it that Chevrolet—a big, powerful, smooth-running six—actually costs less to operate and maintain than any other car you can buy? The answer lies in five outstanding factors of Chevrolet economy:

1. Efficient Engine Design makes Chevrolet fuel consumption so low that 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline is nothing unusual for a Chevrolet owner.

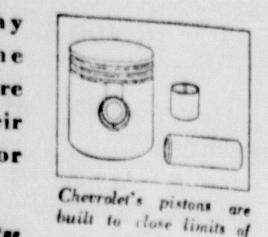

2. Modern Chassis Design—as evidenced by Chevrolet's long heavy frame, four parallel-mounted springs, and smooth-running six-cylinder engine—increases the ability of the Chevrolet Six to run dependably, day after day.

3. Excellence of Manufacture also adds to Chevrolet dependability and long life. Chevrolet pistons, for instance, are built so carefully, and held true to such close limits of precision, that many owners have gone 20,000 miles or more without having their motors opened for major servicing.

4. High-Quality Materials are used throughout the Chevrolet car—costly nickel steel, chrome-vanadium steels, chrome-nickel steels—to assure trouble-free, low-cost service for tens of thousands of miles.

5. Economical Nationwide Service, with its low flat-rate charges on labor and genuine parts, is available at 10,000 dealers throughout the country, who also offer the protection of the most liberal owner's service policy ever to back a low-priced car.

Remember—in addition to all these basic economies—Chevrolet offers the extra dollars-and-cents advantage of one of the lowest delivered prices on the market. And this cost may be spread over a period of many months by the liberal G.M.A.C. plan.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Wilson of here attended Church here Sunday. We are glad to report that little Anna Mae Hardt has recovered sufficiently to be taken from the hospital to a private home.

PARCEL POST SHOWER.

On May 27, 1931, Mrs. Harrison Wilson and Mrs. Fritz Bohmfalk entertained at the home of Mrs. H. N. Brinn with a Parcel Post Shower in honor of Mrs. Herschel Brannen, who will be remembered as Miss Bess Burgin.

Many beautiful and useful presents were sent to her by the donors Houston, Texas, where she resides present.

Little Tommie Duncan and little James Ward, Postman and Cupid, respectively, entered the living room here the guests were seated, drawing a little wagon arranged for parcel post service, loaded with gifts, which were opened and passed round for inspection.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Giving That Gets

By J. Herbert Bean.

"Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again." (Luke 6: 38.)

Give to the world a heartening smile, The Church has need, and you may give.

And a smile will come back to you;" With an open hand of care;

Walk the road of the "second mile," For all you give that men may live

And the miles are cut in two.

The way to get is the giving way,

Of coin, goods, or self;

The only life that can ever pay,

The life that's lord of its self.

in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that headache, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescriptions just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste command it to people of all ages. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstores sell.

NEW WAYS FOR NEW DAYS

The Power To Make Hard Work Easy

Set your plows down. Get the power feel of the Oliver Hart-Parr 28-44 Tractor! Do more work in a day, enjoy a greater profit from harnessed power delivered at the drawbar. In no other tractor can you buy the drawbar horse power per dollar invested that is yours in the 28-44 Oliver Hart-Parr.

Here is a tractor designed to perform. The motor is pressure lubricated to the crank shaft, cam shaft, connecting rods, piston pins, rocker arm and governor shaft bearings. Thermostatic cooling plus pressure lubrication assures a long life motor, one that quickly arrives at its most efficient operating temperature with a minimum amount of crank case dilution, always most prevalent during the motor "warming up" period. Two air cleaners give double filtration of air. Special attention has been given to drive gear and transmission lubrication.

Come in and learn more about the profit that is yours when you own this fine, new tractor. It will pay its own way and give you additional, unexpected profit over the ordinary machine.

SMALL TOWNS BEING WORKED.

There is no denying the fact that practically every kind of small town business is facing unfair competition—the firms who send their salesmen out from the big cities to the smaller towns to make an almost man-to-man canvass for the wares they sell. We have been informed, and reliably so, we believe, that during the last few weeks Edna has been visited and business solicited locally by—

A city shoe repair shop.
A hat renovating shop.
A hair tonic saleswoman.
A printing saleswoman.
A suit salesman.
A hosiery salesman.
A toilet goods saleswoman.
A salesman for nursery stock and shrubbery.

Bread, fruit and truck wagons without number.

We understand that salesmen call regularly to solicit orders for rings and invitations for the graduates of the local school.

Now you can run over that list and you will find that you can secure the same, and often a better grade, of goods and at no higher cost, right here in Edna from firms owned by Edna people; people who are your friends and neighbors, and who have a share in the upbuilding of our town and county. The home institutions must pay rent, taxes, fuel, light, power, bills and other expenses and at the same time respond to calls for charity and the like, and too, 98 per cent of them spend their money right here in Edna. Whereas, the traveling solicitors park their cars on our main streets, and proceed to "work" the town from one end to the other, often not even buying as much as a meal in Edna. All the money they collect, and it is usually a cash in advance proposition with them, is taken out of local business channels and placed in some big city bank and local people never catch a glimpse of it again. This competition is not only injurious to the individual firms, but to the town as a whole. The only remedy for such an evil is a more pronounced spirit of home-town loyalty on the part of our citizens.—Edna Herald.

MUSINGS ON THINGS ABOVE.

I sit and muse on things above, Beyond this world of sin and crime, And wonder if by God's great love I'll ever reach that happy clime.

Just think of it! No sin, no shame, No sickness, pain, nor sorrow-dread; No more good-byes, no funeral dirge, Shall mar their joys just over there.

Eternity shall then roll on, In joyous weeks and months and years; And praise to Him shall be our song, For saving us from sin and fears.

Oh, glorious day, I long for thee, Oh, blissful home above the skies; From toil and pain and death set free Our songs of praise shall ever rise.

To Him whose precious blood was shed To save from sin, death, hell and fire. We'll pour our praise through endless days,

On Him who lifts higher and higher. To bask in Heaven's glorious light, Above the moon, the stars and sun; Where clouds ne'er come and there's no night,

For He's the light—the Glorious One. The Heavens described in God's own word,

Can ne'er be estimated here;

We'll have to go before we know, What Christ prepares for us up there.

Come on, loved ones, and go with us, The race will soon be run and o'er; We'll shout and sing till Heaven ring, Hallelujah! forever more.

HONDO HOSPITAL.

Elsewhere in this paper Mrs. J. L. Mechler reminds her patrons and the people of Hondo and surrounding territory that the Hondo Hospital will continue to be in operation under the same management as it has for the past six years, with the customary provision for efficient and expert hospitalization.

The Hondo Hospital is the first to be established in Hondo and in Medina County, being first begun by Mrs. J. B. Hurt and known as the Hurt Hospital under her management.

Mrs. Mechler having succeeded her in March six years ago, she has brought it up from a one-room and operating room capacity, at that time all that was necessary to meet the needs of a small town, to an up-to-date, modern hospital containing two private rooms, a ward with accommodations for four or six patients, and an operating room with advantage of all modern conveniences.

Each room is fitted with the standard adjustable bed and with individual electric bells.

Such progress as has been made in the improvement of the facilities and in the growth of the clientele of the hospital alone speak for the service ready to meet the public's demands.

Mrs. Mechler is an experienced nurse, having graduated in 1909 from the School of Nursing at the Ozark Sanatorium, Hot Springs, Aransas, and has the honor of being the first graduate nurse in Medina County. In hospital management she has the added value of six years experience and continues in that capacity to offer first class accommodations and nursing to the public.

put your Telephone on Half-pay during Vacation

You'll save money...
and spare yourself inconvenience when you return.

The Rumseys are going vacationing.

The milk's been stopped, the ice man has been called off, and the Man Who Delivers the Newspaper has been instructed to bring no more until further notice.

But the telephone will be left at home, drawing full pay in an empty house!

Something should be done about this!

Vacation rates for idle residence telephones

One solution (provided you're planning a vacation of 30 days or more) is to place your telephone on vacation half-rates while you are away.

It's a convenient way to save money. And—this to folks who sometimes have their telephones taken out—it spares you inconvenience on your return. That's because:

1. You pay just half the regular rate.
2. Service is reconnected quickly after you return—usually within 24 hours after you notify us.
3. You keep your present telephone number. (You'd lose it if you had your telephone removed!)
4. Your name remains in the telephone book.

The lesson of saving is simple to learn;
Just spend something less than that which you earn;
But the man who saves, who lays something by,
Must first always learn himself to deny.

The man who makes less may have more when he's thru

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

"All Texans for All Texans"

Forward Texas Movements

Proud of the achievements of the first century of Texas development, forward-looking Texans are devoting much of their thought and time during the last five years of that century to an impressive and a spectacular review of the history and progress of the past and to plans that should insure more marvelous economic and cultural development throughout the next centenary. Practically every active agency in the State is at work along its own lines, and co-operatively with every other, to accomplish the same end—a better State in which to live and carry on one's life work, a State in which every citizen may have the fullest opportunities the highest type of civilization can offer. This is an ambitious program, but entirely possible to accomplishment with the unified efforts of the citizenship of the State.

Great Industrial Program

Under the combined sponsorship of the three regional chambers of commerce, neither of which has in any way relaxed its efforts for its own section of the State, Progressive Texans, Inc., financed largely by the manufacturing, banking and utility organizations of the State, launched a movement that is certain to result in increased patronage of Texas industries both in and out of Texas, as well as in the establishment of many more industrial enterprises. Texans have been given too little attention to industrial growth and too little support to such industries as have been undertaken within the State.

Industry must keep pace with agriculture if a country would grow as it should and if economic progress would be stabilized. The Southwest, and Texas especially, has suffered from over-emphasis on agricultural production, while neglecting other equally important sources of development. Progressive Texans, Inc., has started a five-year educational campaign to overcome this condition.

Supporting Centennial Celebration

The Texas legislature, by an almost unanimous vote of both houses, has given its endorsement of a creditable Centennial celebration in 1936 by submitting to the people a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to make an appropriation for its support. That such authority will be given can hardly be doubted and that the legislature will respond to the wishes of the people is equally certain. There has never been unanimous as expression of the people and the press upon any public question as in the past few years urging the holding of such a Centennial as will reflect the historic, economic and cultural advancement of Texas since its independence. To insure its success the greatest need is a solidly unified Texas citizenship, which now appears to exist.

Speeding the Work

Realizing that five years is a short time in which to set up a great Centennial exposition—the only kind the Texans want—the legislature created a "Texas Centennial Commission," an official board of nine members, which, with the co-operation and support of the existing State-wide board of 100 members, is to undertake the preliminary work in as minute detail as possible, and present the entire plans to the next legislative session in order that the necessary appropriation may be determined. This is a huge task set by the legislature, but an important one calling for patriotic sacrifice on the part of the commission and the united support of all public-spirited citizens. It is to be hoped that the commission may be functioning actively in the shortest time possible. No greater work, measured by expected results, has been undertaken in Texas within the century.

Cultural Growth Necessary

Pioneers have little time or means to devote to cultural development beyond that which is put into home, school and church, and of necessity these must be limited. As progress is made in what may be termed the material needs of life more attention must be given to matters cultural if the best class of citizenship would be maintained. Literature, music, sculpture, painting and the other so-called "fine-arts" need to be encouraged to satisfy the requirements of a people. Texas has reached the point where Texans can afford to pay more attention to the refinements and niceties of life, and this must be done to attract and hold those who require such things. The State needs libraries, art museums and art galleries. Some of the cities have such things in recent years, but they should be within reach of the masses. The best in the cultural arts should be taken to the people, or many of them will locate where they may be found.

The Trend Toward Art

The trend of artistic thought in Texas is shown in the increasing number of art schools and art galleries in the State. Until recently Texas imported most of its art and artists, as it did its manufactured products and Texans were under the necessity of going East or abroad to visit art galleries. Now, painting is being taught in many schools, even in high schools, and the city without an art gallery is a bit ashamed of that fact. A movement is being discussed by the Texas Fine Arts Association to build the first unit of a State Art Gallery on the New Museum grounds at Austin that will eventually be the Mecca of all art students and art lovers of the Southwest. It is not intended that this shall supplant local art galleries, but rather that it shall supplement and encourage these.

Goat Ranch Art Studio

That an art gallery or art studio need not necessarily be expensive is shown in the fact many art classes and art studios are now found in the country, where life is close to nature. Glen Rose, one of the most rural of country towns in Texas, has become a resort for many artists and students. The hills around Boerne, Bandera and Medina Lake are frequented by artists. The El Paso Art Alliance has acquired the ruins of an abandoned goat ranch, house and coral, with its ancient rock walls, and has converted the place into an art studio, which probably will be enlarged in time into an art gallery, without sacrificing the original "goat ranch" setting.

Making For Texas Progress

Getting back to things material and constructive:

The big dam projects near Eagle Pass, Austin and Brownwood are being rapidly constructed and the Hill Country Chamber of Commerce is going ahead with its program of building numerous small dams with cooperative labor, the latest of these planned being at Harper.

Having ascertained that summer tourists spend every year about $500,000 at Kerrville, plans are being pushed to accommodate the increased number expected this summer.

Thirty seven building projects of the Federal government are underway in Texas and plans are made for 41 more.

The legislature has made it possible for the completion of local plans for the development of the Trinity river waterway from Fort Worth to the Gulf and the San Antonio river waterway from San Antonio to its mouth.

Hays county commissioners, thinking bids of contractors too high, have painted the courthouse by using day labor and employing all who wished to work at $5.00 a day.

A carrot syrup factory is to be erected at Brownsville at a cost of $100,000. It may be hard to conceive of syrup being made of carrots, but it is done.

Two thousand acres of watermelons and cantaloupes are under cultivation around Richland Springs.

Wilson county will ship 300 cars of onions, many farmers having planted onions this year for the first time.

Nacogdoches and Pearsall are to build canning plants right away to handle surplus vegetable and fruit crops.

Oil wells are still being brought in around Kilgore and other towns in that section almost too rapidly to be accurately counted.

Bellton is among the smaller Texas cities to inaugurate the city manager form of government, the retiring mayor being made the first manager.

ROUND ROCK CHEESE FACTORY

With capacity already making a carload of cheese every four days, the growing volume of patronage has made it necessary for the Round Rock Cheese Company to enlarge its plant again. Manager A. H. Hauffman has returned from a trip, purchasing another vat of 10,000 pounds capacity, and a force of hands are engaged in building more storage room.

Despite the depressing period's telling effect in all lines of business and industry, which of course retarded growth and development in the dairy products pursuit, unlike many other businesses which necessarily fell off in volume, the local Cheese factory's production has increased steadily, continuing its growth from the beginning in January, 1928, with 20 milk patrons, to between three and four hundred at the end of two years when the Nelsons and associates here, who put it past the experimental stage, sold it in January last year to Fort Worth Poultry & Egg Company, an Armour & Company organization, and the plant now receiving 44,000 pounds of milk daily from 500 dairy producers here and other dairies outside this immediate territory.

FARM RELIEF.

What a familiar sound this subject has! For 50 years I have been, what has come to be called, a "Dirt Farmer" and as long ago as I can remember the farmer was trying to help himself through Organizations, and otherwise, more or less successfully, usually less.

Why was he not successful? Because he could not control production.

The first Organization I can remember was the Grange, in 1874. Since then I have been connected with a number of other Organizations. The trouble has always been to control production and provide regular marketing, and to keep men who were not farmers, and whose interests were not directly with the farmers, from running the Organizations in the interest of those who were not farmers.

And now after a Presidential campaign in which both parties pledged "Farm Relief," and several years of intensive study, Congress has passed the Farm Relief Bill, and appropriated a large sum of money, and appointed a commission of men, who are supposed to be the best that can be found, to administer the said Relief. And now after more than a year of honest and hard labor on the part of this Commission, where are we?

As I see it, we are practically right where we were a year ago. Why are we in this condition? The Commission says, and I think they are right, that the Farmers must limit production. That the Board cannot do it. But that the farmers must do it themselves.

I well remember past experiences of our farmers, when they have gotten together and reduced production themselves, other interests would increase their crops so the result was really an increase in production, instead of a decrease. The Farm Relief is, and will continue to be, a great help to the farmer's organizations in helping them to unite and control distribution and marketing of farm products, which they must do before the relief is effective. But the weak link of overproduction must be strengthened before the chain will hold. No chain is stronger than its weakest link. What causes this overproduction? I will tell you what I think causes it and what the remedy should be.

I do not think the crops grown by the farmer who lives on his farm, either the land-owner or a tenant and who is naturally interested in building up his community, and making a home for his family, he too will move to town and become a wage-earner or go into some other business.

The farmer is just as capable as his cousin who lives in town, and if he cannot make enough on his farm to support his family in a manner equal to his cousin's family, he too will move to town and become a wage-earner or go into some other business.

In that case our Agricultural Products will be grown on a large scale by rich men and corporations, and our rural population, which has been the back-bone of our Country for the past one hundred and fifty years will disappear. I do not want to see this happen.

So let us help the farmer to help himself and make it possible for him to live on his farm, and build up our rural communities instead of crowding to the cities.

The hostesses were Mesdames Charles Filleman, Ernest Mueller, Toby Koch, Robert Koch, Ed Koch and Miss Marie Koch. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Felix Richter and Mrs. Ed Ney. A color scheme of pink and white was featured in the decorations.

QUIHI NOTES.

"It is impossible that offences will come; but woe unto him, through whom they come." Luke 17: 1.

Sunday morning at 9 o'clock Sunday School and Bible Class. A cordial invitation to attend this Sunday school and Bible class is extended to all.

Divine services will be held in Bethlehem Lutheran church Sunday morning and also Sunday night. In the forenoon at 10 o'clock the service will be in the German language and at 8 o'clock P. M. in the English tongue. All are cordially welcome at all services in this church.

Miss Hubbard was conducted to the place of honor by little Tommy and Dorothy Glenn, the twin children of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ney. Miss Sara Rothe sang "Nobody Ever." The honoree was prettily attired in pink organdie, and her tiny ushers were attractive in the same color. A wagon, beruffled in pink and white crepe paper contained many beautiful gifts.

The hostesses served ice-cream, cake and macaroons to about 75 guests.

A splendid literary-musical program was rendered last Sunday night in Bethlehem Lutheran church by the Quihi Luther League. A capacity and appreciative audience was present to hear and enjoy this program. All numbers on the program were interesting and instructive and were rendered excellently, demonstrating anew that practice and perseverance result in efficiency.

The regular monthly meeting of the Quihi Luther League was held Sunday night. After the usual routine business was over, a resolution was passed to arrange a 4th of July celebration in Boehle's Grove, similar to the celebrations held there the past few years. The committee of arrangements is composed of Mr.

SCOUTERS MEET AT CAMP FAWCETT.

Phil C. Jagge and Eagle Scout Curly Mechler represented Medina County at this Meeting. School closing exercises over the county prevented Superintendent W. N. Saathoff from coming, but we appreciate these men's interest, and trust that they are able to convince the folks back home that they have an equal interest in the best camp site in the Southwest.

V. A. Brown Hall at the Camp Site was a busy place Tuesday of last week, thirty-one men and several visitors spending the day there in the interest of the Scout program for southwest Texas Council.

Mr. Lloyd O'Neal, Deputy Regional Scout Executive for three states in the great Southwest, made many helpful suggestions to the group of Council Officials and Scouting, who had come from eight counties and 13 different communities, about their boy problems and organization procedure.

Mr. O'Neal was loud in his praise of our camp site, and the building and equipment that we have. He said that we had used the proper procedure in "paying as we went," rather than running up a large debt, which seems to be very easily done in any Council, or in any social or business enterprise; however, a small balance is due on the roof of our mess hall, and six of the ten counties will yet complete their respective quotas, ranging from a few dollars to $125.00. When these funds are raised, together with a few larger contributions, we can retire all the indebtedness, make our beautiful bathing place more beautiful and attractive, as well as a bit safer. The Camp Committee wishes to remove every hazard that is possible, and take every precaution to insure safety to every swimmer.

Chaplain John MacWilliams presided over the preparations of the lunch. He is becoming known far and wide as a professional "steak broiler." We were all indebted to Mr. Bell of Rocksprings for furnishing the bread, rolls and cakes, and to Fred Thompson Creamery of Uvalde for furnishing cream, milk and ice cream.

Much Council routine business was disposed of, and all of the 31 Scouters and the several visitors present expressed themselves as very much pleased with having spent the day at the camp. Mr. O'Neal, President Fawcett, V. A. Brown, L. F. Heard, Sterling H. Fly, Judge N. H. Hunt and Chaplain John MacWilliams were among those who spoke, or lead in the discussions of a number of our problems.

D. W. Price, Area Finance Chairman, laid before the group the fact that our Fiscal year was up June 1, and that it was necessary to refinance our program to continue the work. Plans were submitted to begin this campaign in Uvalde, our Headquarters town, following up at Del Rio, and then the other district centers in order.

Uvalde is carrying on despite the rainy weather of last week, and as this is being out from Scout Headquarters, teams of interested men are still working in order to give every citizen an opportunity to have a part in Scouting.
